Rams Meet Weatherford

Thanksgiving Edition Next Week

San Angelo College met the Weatherford Coyotes last night at 8 o'clock on the Bobcat Gridiron. The Rams were not at full strength at all and it is doubtful if they will have had two men at each position due to illness.

The Rams were slightly favored over the Coyotes but it should have been a grand battle. The Rams lost to John Tarleton 14-0 and John Tarleton beat Weatherford 27-6. San Angelo lost to N.T.A.C 12-0 and the Coyotes lost to the same bunch 10-6. Weatherford beat the Hardin Simmons Freshmen 20-19 and San Angelo lost to them 16-7. Weatherford beat Hillsboro 13-7 and the Rams beat them 19-6.

College Magazine Started By Brewer

Miss Brewer has stated that work on the SAC magazine will begin in earnest after the eighteenth of this month. Several students have signed up to work on this magazine.

A list of the members will be posted, and the staff will be selected from this group.

Two mimeographed copies will be issued each semester. Copy for the magazine will be taken from the best works done by students in or outside of class. It will also include poetry which students wish to contribute.

If you are interested in working on the SAC Magazine, please get in touch with Miss Brewer soon.

Harris Announces Freehand Course

Mr. H. Harris, an instructor in the engineering department, announces a freehand drawing course. The course meets four hours a week and carries a two-hour terminal credit.

The course will emphasize shade and shadow and feature a study of perspective. The drawings will be of still life until late in the spring when there will be some study of the sketching of nature.

The class last spring consisted of about fifteen, and it is hoped that this many and more will enroll this year.

No Holiday For College Actors

On December the 9th in the San Angelo College auditorium "George Washington Slept Here" will be presented by SAC Little Theatre. This play is produced by the play production class. Rehearsals are being run off on a stiff schedule which includes the Armistice holiday. For those who feel that they cannot be on time to attend rehearsal a fine of ten cents is assessed.

Those boys who are trying out for the parts of Raymond are to meet Wednesday at 3:00 and get professional coaching. The week after this the part will be in the hands of the boy best suited for it.

Miles Sedberry is working on the set which they are to use. A new make-up kit has arrived and wigs are to be ordered, states Mr. Ardis.

Chorus Notice

The San Angelo College Choir is one of the leading extracurricular groups in our college. Great interest has always been shown in the choir. Mr. Carl Brumbelow, director, has been associated with San Angelo College three years, and each year his choir has been outstanding, he having studied under the great Stanley Seder and Madame Elsa Harthan Arendt.

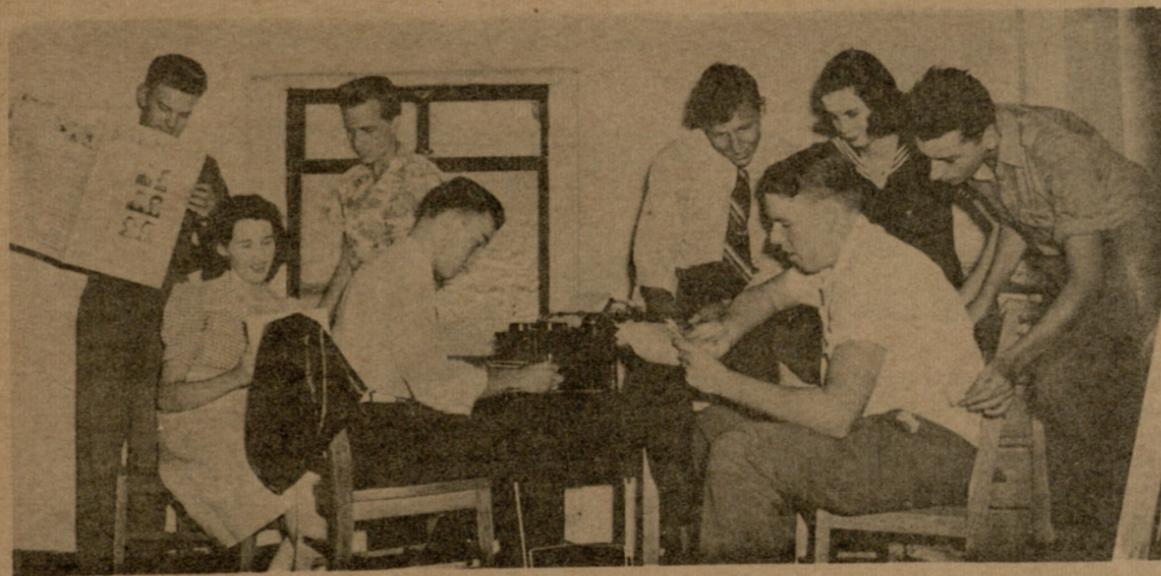

In 1939 the choir was the only choral organization in Texas invited to participate in the National Choir Federation in Los Angeles.

The choir became strictly a Capella in 1940. The group went to state meets in 1939 and 1941, and expects to go to the state meet in Dallas this spring.

Last year the group gave thirty-three public programs. Included among these was a recital with the famous organist, Dr. Frank Asper, from the Mormon Tabernacle in Salt Lake City.

The choir's repertoire consists of the finest to be had in choral music, from the pens of such composers as Bach, Handel, Palestrina, Rachmaninoff, Christianson, and Noble Cain.

The college purchased choral robes for the choir last year. The choir will present the program in assembly on December 16.

RAM-PAGE STAFF begins work on the eight-page Thanksgiving issue which will be published next week. In the upper picture are H. D. Wright, business manager, Bart McDowell, editor; and J. M. Huling, associate editor.

SAC MAY HAVE CAA COURSE SOON

About fifteen students have filed their application blanks for another CAA course to be offered beginning at mid-term, announces Mr. L. T. Bare.

"It is still not definite that we can have this course here again, but we are trying to secure another permit for the student flying instruction."

All students interested in this course should see Mr. Bare immediately and submit their applications to him.

LAMBDA TAU DANCE

The Lambda Tau gives their first big dance of the year tonight in the Rec. Room.

The affair will begin at 8 o'clock and end in the vicinity of mid-night.

The dance will be a backward affair and no boy stags will be allowed to enter.

Girls . . . for heaven sake get dates. Pity the poor males and take them to the dance. There will be others that will not be backward and let's all keep this in mind.

Reports Next Week

Between the 12th and the 20th of this month, mid-semester grades will be out. This year, for the first time, students and parents will be given a report of their schoolastic work for the first half of the first semester, stated Dean C. C. Minitra. These grades will either be given to the students or mailed to the parents.

Commercial Club

The Commercial Club will meet Tuesday at 2 o'clock. Commercial Club members and all other students interested in commercial subjects are asked to attend the meeting and hear a surprise speaker.

Shake Up

Members of the Ram-Page staff are now working on their assignments for the big eight-page Thanksgiving edition which will come out on November 2. Many new stories, features, and jokes will appear in this copy.

Following the edition of the Thanksgiving issue, there will be a reorganization of the Ram Page staff. The plans are still indefinite, but those members who are not doing any work will be dropped from the staff and more deserving students put in their places. Anyone interested in working on the paper is urged to contact Robert McDowell as there may be a few vacancies after this general "staff shake-up."

Hats Off To SAC

Hats off to the students in SAC for the splendid cooperation they have shown in regards to the recreation room this year. Students have shown a great deal of interest in making the rec room a place of friendly gatherings and have endeavored to keep their conduct above reproach.

The attendance this year seems to be higher than it was last year. No destructive work has been reported, and all who go down to the rec room seem to enjoy themselves.

The rec room is yours, students, and we're proud of you for your interest and cooperation. Let's just keep up the good work, and try to get every SAC student interested in going down, so that we can make it a one hundred per cent success.

Happy Fish

They look good! They feel good! Why not cooperate to the fullest extent, freshmen, and wear your slime caps everywhere you go. The majority of you agreed to wear them, or else they would not have been ordered, so now we want to see you with them on every day and everywhere until Freshman day.

The Sophs may make fun of you and try to order you around a little, but just show them that you can take it. More than one Soph has been heard remarking "I wish we had worn those caps last year. If I were a freshman this year I would want to keep the idea of "Slime caps" going next year."

When a soph makes some catty remark about your cap, don't get mad. Just push your little cap a little further back on your head and go whistling on your way 'cause you know they really like them, but they're just a little jealous because they don't have one . . .

Ideal Girl

By Richard Cox

I have the funny idea that women should be feminine. Maybe this idea is considered old-fashioned, but if there is anything I detest, it is a "strong-arm" girl. Everyone knows the type. She is the kind that would make a good boxer or wrestler. One can spot this "strong-arm" type at a glance. When she goes out with boys (which is seldom), this female Hercules never misses a chance to show off her strength. She thinks it is "cute" to reach over and "knock the daylight" out of a man. Then "Superwoman" will giggle at the blank look of astonishment of his face, while the fellow grins sheepishly and remembers to dodge the next blow.

Perhaps the most widely hated type is the kind of girl that tells her mother everything that happened on her date. She is sometimes called the "mother's little lamb" type. A boy usually can't have very much fun with this kind of girl, knowing that everything he does and says will be the topic of conversation at the next Ladies Society meeting. In the home, this "mother's darling" is very careful and methodical. She never does anything in a carefree way; all the dates must be planned, or else she doesn't go. This kind of girl generally makes a good, conservative wife, but that is all!

Then there is the "popular" girl, sometimes called the "prom princess." This girl goes out with nearly all the boys, but likes none of them. To her, all dates are alike. In order to make a date with this female, one must get his "order" in early. To make a hit with her, a boy must spend lots of money on the dates; even then she is seldom satisfied.

The ideal type of the female species is a girl that can give and take, that is popular with everyone, and is sincere, not frivolous and flighty. Of course, this type is hard to find, but such a girl will have no trouble in getting a husband. She is the kind who can do almost everything and who is willing to learn anything she doesn't know how to do. This girl is very attractive, but not glamorous. I hope that someday I may find one like that.

I have mentioned only a few of the many types of women. The few that I have mentioned, I have had experience with and know something about. I really think that the female species, on the whole, are pretty good, and it would be a dull old world without them.

Ideal Boy

By Lida Nowell

Books could be written concerning desirable and undesirable dates. The perfect date is, in actuality, one in a million. Naturally I do not mean that all dates are undesirable, but some of them have faults which are definitely inexcusable.

The worst date a girl can possibly get is "Mr. Ego." This date is interested in no one but himself, who in his opinion, is the most wonderful man in the world. Most of the evening is spent in listening to "Mr. Ego's" stories of himself and his astounding deeds, which never impress anyone except himself.

Next in line comes "Bashful Tom," who will not even attempt conversation. No, the poor girl is left to carry on both sides of it. One cannot help feeling sorry for poor old Tom, because he is usually quite ugly and unsophisticated. However, no girl cares to go with this type of boy more than once.

Dearest to every girl is the man of her dreams, and every girl has one. When she finds him, she does her best to keep him. Naturally, the perfect date is the dream man. The dream man is supposedly tall enough to please the girl, and of course, he must be nice looking and well-dressed. This perfect date can show a girl a good time, although he may not spend much money. He has a good personality and is fun to talk to. His manners are quite irreproachable, and a girl is always proud to be seen with him.

If all dates could be as perfect as a girl's dream-date, this world would be next to Utopia.

Due to illness of Editor McDowell, J. M. Huling is acting editor this week. Bernice Hudgens is serving as news editor this week in place of Jo Katherine Schmidt.

MUFLING

By J. M. Huling

MUTINY

What's going on in San Angelo Ram camp? There seems to be something going on that shouldn't. Last Monday there were but 17 football men out for practice and there are not many more than that left on the roster. At the beginning of the season there were better than thirty candidates for the Rams but look what has happened. From the very first they began dropping out of school for some reason unknown to the College Press and it has been going on all year. We have been losing games because we just do not have the subs to rest the first string men and at the rate things are going now we will hardly have a first string to put into a ball game. Maybe the band will do most of the playing at the ball games from here on out.

BASKETBALL

Before very long the Gym will ring with the sound of the ball against the hardwood. Yes, it is almost time for basketball to begin. Last year the Rams had quite a time of it. They won the right to play in the state playoffs but the district committee decided that the Rams did not play enough games to entitle them to go into the finals. It seems that one school that the Rams played had not paid their conference dues and therefore the games that they played had no bearing on conference standings. The Rams played them two games and won both of them. In legal play the Rams won 9 and dropped 1. Since ten was the required number of games this put the Rams on top but then comes the committee ruling. This certain school had not paid their dues and their games did not count and the Rams had but 8 games played and that was two shy and the Tarleton Plowboys were sent from this district to the playoffs. The playoffs by the way were played between three teams and ended in a three-way tie.

EXTRA POINT

Maybe I'm wrong but if so there are thousands of others in the United States that are badly mistaken, but it just doesn't seem right for the rules to let just one little kick count so much in a ball game. Tuesday the Bobcats of San Angelo High lost a game to the Big Spring Steers by a score of 13-12. The Steers kicked one point after touchdown and the Bobcats failed to kick any and lost the ball game by one point. There have been those who have contended for years that there was too much placed upon this one little kick and after seeing that ball game played evenly all the way through and then won by a single point, it really seems as if something ought to be done about this.

NTAC Downs Rams

It was the same old story in Arlington last Friday. The Rams beat them in everything on the field but the score. That was 12-0 in favor of the Aggies.

The running of Carl Knox and the passing of Budford Hudgins took the Rams for their second loss in conference play. It was the sixth victory of the season for the Aggies against one loss. They now rank second in the conference standings.

With blocking that was spectacular the NTAC squad took an early lead and never lost it and were never really in danger of losing it.

The game was but two minutes old when the Aggies scored their first touchdown. Standing on his own 40-yard Knox quick kicked over the Ram goal stripe and Lane, kicked out for a total of 6 yards. On the first Agg play Knox went through center for five yards and then Hudgins took out around left end, lateraled to Rogers and Rogers scored. Sharp missed the kick and the score stood 6-6 until the third quarter.

Neal Booretz, Aggie tackle recovered a San Angelo fumble on the Ram 34 yard line and from there the Aggies scored their second touchdown. Knox hurled a 34-yard ariel to Hudgins and he ran the remaining 22 yards for the score.

The Rams just could not get going. The runners and blockers messed each other up and the Aggies took advantage of every mistake the Black and Gold made to beat them 12-0.

The starting lineups:

Pos.	N.T.A.C.	Rams
L.E.	Caudle	Bacak
L.T.	Boertz	Vinson
L.G.	Gregory	Moss
C.	Duewall	Beltcher
R.G.	Shellito	Jones
R.T.	Hills	Payne
R.E.	Strange	Ragsdale
B.	Knox	Morris
B.	Rogers	Powers
B.	Sharp	Turner
B.	Hudgins	McCorkle

Score by periods:

N.T.A.C.	6	0	6	0-12

"Seeing the Southwest"

By Smitty Buchanan

Texas Baylor

Last Saturday the Baylor Bears erased the name of the Texas Longhorns from the list of the untied by the score of 7-7. The Bruins outplayed the Longhorns in every field of play. Fast breaking ground plays are aerial magic mixed up the great Longhorns so much that they seemed to never get started. The Longhorns missed the services of the great fullback, Pete Layden, end, Malcomb Kutner and tackle, Julian Garrett. All of these Steers were out of the game because of some injuries. This tie puts the Longhorns in second place in the Southwest Conference.

Texas A. & M.-S.M.U.

Derace Moser threw desperate passes at the close of the annual game last Saturday to outscore the Mustangs from Southern Methodist. For 49 minutes the Mustangs fought gallantly to hold to their 10-9 lead, but the Aggies had too many reserves on hand and the Aggies came through in the last half of the fourth quarter to score two touchdowns and the game ended with the great Aggie "last quarter men" winning 21-10.

Rice-Arkansas

The Rice Owls pulled everything out of the bag except the little gray rabbit to win over the Arkansas Razorbacks by the count of 21-12. Little Baron Ellis stole the whole game with his masterful running and pass snaring. The Owls scored two tallies in the first six minutes of the game. From then on the Owls did not seem to have much trouble.

Bobcats Bow To Steers 13-12

The combination of Bostick and Peppy Blount upset the dope sheet to win over the San Angelo Bobcat eleven by the score of 13-12 Tuesday on the Angelo gridiron.

The Angelo squad started off the first quarter with a score in the first few minutes of play but after the Steers got their breath the avalanche from Big Spring started to roll.

Blount gathered in two touchdown passes and Barton kicked the point that meant the ball game.

Chase scored the Bobcat's first touchdown on an off tackle slant that was good for about 40 yards and the score. Milton Rathbone squirmed his way around his own right end for the other Angelo score.

Leading the offense for the Bobcats were Chase, Key, and Rathbone. Dodson did some beautiful punting that kept the Cats in the running.

Playing outstanding ball for the Steers were Bostick, the man who flung the passes, Blount, Hardy and Suggs.

Had the Bobcats won this game they would have been in a good position to win the 3-AA crown as Sweetwater was downed 26-21 by Odessa.

Of all the days we, the students, have enjoyed since Registration Day, last Tuesday we think was enjoyed more than any other. Evidences of the good times were the baggas under everyone's eyes Wednesday morning. Fooled you—didn't we, Bagga?

Our "remark of the week" was made by none other than the chief super-stupid of this publication—Editor McDowell. The said remark, "Give me lipperty or give me death."

It seems to us that . . . Annie Alderman and Bob Maginot definitely have up a case . . . Jean and Stubby are steady as steel . . . Doug and Gloria will never let the flame go out . . . Bonnie and Harris are the envy of everyone because of their ice skating spree

. . . Nick is being missed more than any since he left to be a Flying Cadet last Tuesday . . . Viola Beth Hearn is making some of the Army boosters turn green with envy and all because of those silver wings she totes—which are by the way the real thing . . . Those Lollar gals have a way with the men—just ask Gene Bowen or Doug Renner.

Slime caps came out Wednesday morning—horrid little things aren't they?

Virginia Smith, Betty Fuller, Jeannette Clements, and Claudia White sat and waited and waited Sunday afternoon for four cadets that never did show up.

Public Notice: "Kess" Kesterson dated Buster Reed Tuesday night. She was absent from school Wednesday.

Vesta Chenoweth had a jam-pack last Friday night of the Ram fans who didn't get to go to Arlington. Nobody heard the game except Willy Foo and she had to climb in the radio to do it. High lights of the evening—Millman Rochester emptied an ash tray into the popcorn bag, and Bob Maginot cut off his own necktie trying to see if a pair of electric scissors would really cut.

Coming back from Arlington the football boys sang and dedicated to Ed Bacak, "Oh Bring Back My Bonnie To Me."

What SAC needs is more mid-week holidays to enliven the school spirit and make more news for us columnists (not fifth).

HUNTING and FISHING

by HERBIE TOOMBS

I said in a previous column that this would be a good season for hunters. When I said that, I took the usual thing, that the migratory birds would migrate, for granted. Well, they migrated, but not far enough. The survey shows that there are more ducks than there were last year, but just go out on lakes and rivers and see for yourself. My guess is that they have stopped north of here in the wheat country. To kill the limit in ducks was very easy last year, but I don't know of anyone who has done that this season. I am afraid that if these waterfowls do not start coming in within the next week, they will not come at all.

If you sportsmen want this column to continue, you will have to let me know what kind of luck you are having. I can't write a column that will interest you if all I have to write about is what luck I have had. Thus far I have had only one report from a student.

Jack Beesley, June Covington, and Jimmy Taylor caught fourteen croppie Friday afternoon. Jack says that June caught most of the fish. Maybe this was because she was interested in fishing.

Deer and turkey season opens Sunday. I don't imagine many of us will get to go deer hunting soon, but I know a few will go after that old gobbler. I will expect to hear from those who do.

To enjoy a fine afternoon out in the "aire fresco" and also to get in shape to cheer the Rams in the game with Weatherford Friday night, many couples and confirmed stags went to the Bobcat-Big Spring game played at the Bobcat Stadium.

Fish Sport First SAC Slime Caps

The freshmen slime caps, ordered by freshman president, Wood Butler, arrived Wednesday. The caps were readily accepted by the majority of the freshmen, who immediately donned them for what is yet an undetermined length of time.

Freshmen are required to wear their slime caps to all football games, formal and informal dances, shows, and picnics. In fact, the only exception to this is that the freshmen need not wear these caps to church.

The caps are green with white bibs, and with the number 43 (to represent year of graduation from SAC) in white on the front of the cap.

There are still a few of the caps which have not been paid for or claimed, so if you do not have yours yet, please make arrangements with Wood to get it so that you too can let the world know that you're proud to be a freshman in SAC.

Drakers Give Barbecue - Picnic

Tuesday afternoon the Drakers and their dates drove out to the Boehme farm for a barbecue supper.

After filling up on goat and all the fixings, Draker stoges entertained the older members and their dates with various initiation stunts.

At the picnic were Miles DeLaney and June Hudson, Neill DeLaney and Jean Stepp, Bill Edgar and Virginia Hays, Jack Grafa and Ruth Stein, Douglass Guenther and Gloria Fread, Dick Harris and June Covington, Guy Lively and June Lollar, Bob Maginot and Ann Alderman, Frank Meadows and Olga Atkinson, George Pappas and Betty Winstead, Buster Reed and Mary Lou Kesterson, Douglas Renner and Charlotte Lollar, E. R. Schindler and Mary Frances Edgar, Bob Stringer and Ouida Code, James Lummus and Vesta Chenoweth, Gene Wills, Bitsy Huling and faculty sponsor Carl Brubelow and Mrs. Oleta Buster.

BROWNING WITH

Nobody can say that the students are not behind the Rams. Proof that we are Bagga them 100 per cent is seen in the large number of fans that attended the NTAC-Ram game in Arlington. All week long we have been picking up stories here and there about the good times all these people had on their trip. (We even envy them). Ask Holman Smith to explain his technique of entering the girl's dormitory at Denton—not bad.

Zowie!! What a book. Have you ever read it? It is one of those thrilling, exotic, adventurous, stirring, exciting, spine-chilling, goose-bumpercicipating novels that have you on the edge of the seat during the whole story. This book is the only one of it's type. The name of this best seller is "BRINGAM BAGGA ALIVE," by Frank Bagga.

It is said that the editor of this paper is the gold digger of all gold diggers. The other day lovely Jo Lu Barnett remarked that she had six dollars. The Romeo Bart steps up and says that he will make her his wife, Mary Lou Kesterson said that she also had six dollars. Bart then replied that he will marry them both. Then Bart praising himself said NOW ISN'T THAT BIGAMY.

Most of the stags remained in high spirits all week-end. Following is the third to be published but first to be complete list of all those who made the trip: Bonnie Lou Zeigler, June Hudson, Harris Smith, Justine Ramsey, Evelyn Tyler, Elliott and L. C. Harlow, Jr., John Scott Harris, J. M. Huling, Smitty Buchanan, Dickie Bowen, Holman Smith, Bill Sykes, Richard Cox, Ernest Wilbanks, Charlie Allison, Douglas Cox, and Wood Butler.

Those who weren't lucky enough to go to Arlington, grouped around radios tuned in on the game and cheered the Rams by remote control. Several parties were rooting for the team.

Fashion Note: Have you ladies seen the new line of hand-Baggas shown at a down town department store? If not, run down and see them right away. Who knows, you may be left holding the Bagga.

Monday night, Buster Reed's Orchestra threw an informal hop at the Hangar.

Above is the portrait done by some son-of-a-bagga of our assistant student manager. On account of some underhand work done by somebody, we were unable to find a photograph of her.
