Bob Bowden Named S. G. Manager

Chorus Not Traveling Too Much But Having Fun; Bogard Elected New Prxy

Admittedly not making as many appearances as some like groups have in the past but sold on the idea that they have one of the outstanding groups in the school's history, the San Angelo College chorus is working hard each week.

Director Carl Brumbelow, in his usual pleasant way, comments that this chorus is one of the finest groups he has ever seen. This year's edition of human songbirds number 32. Because of the fact that some of the officers have dropped out of school, new administrative force was elected last week by the singers.

Richard Bogard was named president, Clydene Everitt selected vice-president and John Davenport was named business manager.

The group sang in the city-wide Christmas carol program here last year, appeared before the Kiwanis and warbled before the state teacher's association convention at the city hall. They have received invitations to show all over West Texas, mainly at Ballinger High, Coleman High. There is a good chance that the group will go to Eldorado and Sonora for programs March 19. A program has been scheduled for the State Sanatorium the fourth Sunday in April.

But the highlight of the invitations came from the National Music Conference Convention, which invited the collegians to sing at their annual convention in Los Angeles April 30. But for lack of cash and support from the town the group will probably miss the California trip.

COLLEGIANS FIND FUN AT THURS. PARTY-DANCE

One of the most generally enjoyed college parties of the year was given in the recreation room Thursday night of last week, when a party-dance climaxed the end of celebration of "Sadie Hawkins" week.

Numerous "old" games, such as "winkum", found favor with fun-hungry collegians. Highlight of the evening's program was a mock wedding in which Inelle Owens and Hugh Welch, just about the "long and short" of college students, played top roles.

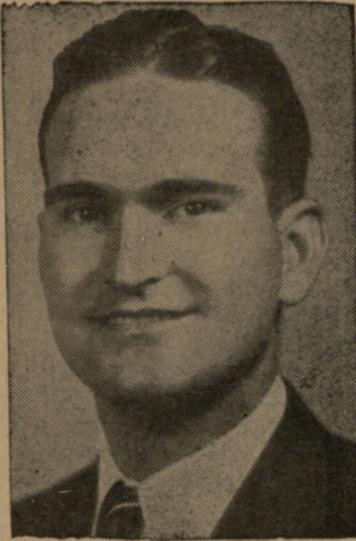

Ice cream was served as refreshment. Dancing was the order of the evening from then on as the girls exercised their leap year right by doing the tagging.

REC ROOM MAY BE OPEN BY MONDAY OR TUESDAY EQUIPMENT IS ALL IN

There is a good chance that the recreation room may be reopened by Monday or Tuesday of next week it was announced yesterday. A great deal of work has been done in the past few weeks in changing the room and procuring new entertainment.

WE PRESENT PREMIERE INK LIKENESS OF COACH PETE SIKES FOR ANGELO

For two years Pete Sikes has bucked the stormy waves of opposition in the Teras Junior College Athletic Conference, carrying the banner of the Gold and Black of San Angelo College. His success is widely known. Yet, here above, we present the first picture of Coach Sikes that has appeared since his arrival in San Angelo.

Coach Sikes Rams lost only two conference games in the school's first football campaign last fall and lost only three conference basketball games through the just completed league race. For a man's first year in inter-college sports competition, we think this is a remarkable job.

For our and your scrapbook, here is the picture. Think of Coach Sikes next year as his Rams sail into another even more successful season.

week. Miss Mary Rountree, in charge of new arrangement as chairman of the faculty social committee, said that numerous new games have been bought.

"Legislation" concerning hours when the room will be open has been brought up before the student council and definite hours will not be known for some time.

S. A. C. BUSINESS PLACEMENT BUREAU VERY SUCCESSFUL

During the twelve years since the establishment of San Angelo College, Mr. Masterson instructor in business, has been in charge of the Business Placement Bureau. This Bureau is an added service of the commercial department, and has for its main purpose the securing of business positions for students who are majoring in business. Adequate file are kept to supply detailed information to prospective employers of past and present students.

At the present time one may find San Angelo College graduates in practically all the principal offices of San Angelo; to name a few: Standard-Times, Western Reserve Life, West Texas Utilities, KGKL, Model Laundry, County Auditor's Office, Western Audit, Shannon Hospital, Household Furniture, Community Natural Gas Co., Poulter's Co. and E. R. Sedgwick Co. All of the commercial graduates of 1939 were placed during the summer and fall.

During the past eight weeks the following students have secured positions through the Bureau: Miss Faye Holcomb, secretary, Supt. Smith's office; Miss Eva Lee Mayo, bookkeeper-secretary, Chas. Moore & Son's Co.; Leonard Layne, bookkeeper, Bolen Floor Co.; Miss Mildred Templeton, bookkeeper-secretary, Coulter's Co.; Charles Mann, bookkeeper, Poulter's Co.; Miss Nelda Parish, secretary, Community Natural Gas Co.

That the terminal function of junior colleges appeals to many students is evidenced by the fact that nearly one hundred students in San Angelo College are majoring in business. One and two-year courses are offered for those who wish to specialize in general clerical, secretarial, or accounting fields. For next year a curriculum for a course in salesmanship is to be added to help supply the stores of San Angelo with young people who understand the principles of selling.

Of this year's graduating class there are some twenty-five prospective office employees, capable of do-

WILLS, COFFEY AND BRISCOE WIN FRESHMEN PLACES IN RUN-OFF

Membership of the San Angelo College student council is complete. Close races Monday in all three freshman run-off decisions ended balloting for positions.

Billy Bert Wills, the "morning to night" campaigner, won his battle with Gerry Phillips, 56 to 43. W. C. "Peaberry" Coffey went in as a Fish out-of-town representative by defeating Ned Leidecker in the final voting, 55 to 44, and Louise Briscoe came out ahead of another out-of-towner, Frank Proctor, 54 to 44.

Other Fish councilmen named last week are Richard Bogard, Ralph Chase, and Ellalie Alderman. Soph representatives are Allen Fulghum, Jerry Covington, Geraldine Stone, Elbert Stephenson, Helen Abbott and Clayton "Red" Johnson. Truman Sims of the sophs and Norman Elrod of Fish, class presidents, automatically became council members.

The council met Tuesday for the first time and its first official business was the naming of two faculty members to serve in advisory capacity. Mr. Thomas and Miss Reynolds were named.

At its Tuesday meeting, the council had a stormy session. However, much important legislation was enacted. Bob Bowden was named student manager for the remainder of the semester. Miss Briscoe was named secretary of the council and James Favours was balloted treasurer. Bowden was chosen over Lewis Wilson and John Davenport.

Bowden's margin over Wilson was 8 to 5. One councilman was absent.

The group was slated for two more meetings this week at which time they were to consider the important business of approving permanent committees upon selection by the student manager.

ELKINS ADMINISTERS OATH TO PRESIDENT AND COUNCIL TUESDAY

President Elkins administered the oath of office to newly elected San Angelo College student officers last Tuesday in assembly. Following the repetition of the oath, all students stood and sang the school song.

"DEAD MEN CAN'T HURT YOU" TO BE PRESENTED BY S. A. C. DRAMATISTS IN STATE CONTEST AT HILLSBORO NEXT WEEK; ARDIS: CAST IS STRONG

Dramatically speaking, things are looking up at San Angelo College.

Professor W. L. Ardis' top crew of stage artists are about ready for the most important event of the year—the annual trip to the state junior college one-act play contests.

This year's contest will be held at Hillsboro, March 14, Thursday of next week, and the actors and actresses are busy nowadays getting in top shape for the jousting.

Mr. Ardis feels the group has a fine chance of taking the prizes at Hillsboro. He has seen the plays for the last three years and feels that the present group stands well in comparison with the calibre of competition to be found at the state meet.

"Dead Men Can't Hurt You", a 25-minute play, is the dramatization to be used by the local group. Jacquelyn Presson has the feminine lead and Harry Lovejoy takes the male spotlight. Other characters are Elizabeth Roberts, Ellalie Alderman and "Hank" Gibson, E. L. Coggin will make the trip as property man.

The play will be "previewed" for college students next Tuesday morning at regular assembly period. All students are requested to be present for the play. Mr. Ardis will handle the program.

ing work in secretarial and book-keeping positions as well as general clerical duties.

Mr. Masterson thinks that this group comprises some of the best talent the college has had available during its history. Some of the commercial graduates are going away to college, but most of them will secure positions in San Angelo business offices through the Placement Bureau.

WHEN A GOOD MAN AND A HARD JOB MEET

Congratulations to Bob Bowden, the student manager of San Angelo College.

Bob has had experience along this line and is capable of helping the student council through the perilous waters to be traversed the first few weeks. The council did an excellent job in selecting Bob.

Bob knows the responsibility that rests on his back. The whole plan of the government which S. A. C. students approved evolves around the student manager. So it is, that the success largely will depend on the ability and tirelessness of this particular officer.

If Bob calls on you for assistance in some student project, lend your aid if at all possible. He will have his hands full directing the work without having to do all the odd jobs himself.

PAPER PLEDGES AID TO COLLEGE STUDENT GOVERNMENT MOVEMENT.

Much has been said of the importance of student support of the new government plan being inaugurated. The students have pledged support. The Ram-Page hereby takes a like stand, committing itself to support of any program the student council sees fit to advocate.

The newspaper in the United States plays a very important part in daily life and opinion of the masses. The newspaper plays practically the same part in college life although many students may never stop to consider that fact. But the editors, reporters, and sponsors of the Ram-Page are wholeheartedly in favor of government movement. The Ram-Page realizes that without proper publicity and support the plan stands a good chance of not going over.

So you are requested to read the Ram-Page each week and keep up with the doings of the council and watch of announcements which may directly concern you. The Ram-Page is the official organ of speech for San Angelo College. The Student Council is the official governing body. The two will work hand in hand.

GETTING YOUR MONEY'S WORTH

Suppose you go to the store for a bushel of apples. You pay for a bushel of apples but when you get home, you find that the grocer has given you only a peck of the fruit. Naturally you feel indignant. And very probably you go back to the store and demand the rest of your apples. The grocer hasn't given you your money's worth.

Suppose you go to college for an education. You pay for your education—tuition, fees and all the extras your purchase calls for. But when you come home, you find somewhere along the line, you missed getting parts of your education. You can't go back to the store that handles this product—oh, you can, but you'll pay the price again if you do. You should have demanded your money's worth at the time of your purchase. Are you getting all your apples?

—R-A-M-S—

"THERE'LL BE SOME CHANGES MADE" NOW BETTER GET IN LINE

Speaking seriously—

We wonder if the student body enjoys the weekly edition of the Ram-Page. Do you like a printed newspaper which tries to keep to real journalistic principles or would you be satisfied with a mimeographed pamphlet as was the custom previous to this year?

You paid 50 cents of your student activity fee into a fund for maintenance of the Ram-Page. In return, you receive 32 copies of the newspaper. That looks like a bargain. But do you consider it so?

If you consider the newspaper is worth the effort it takes to print it, then now is the time to begin to look forward to next year's paper. The staff at present is not large enough nor well enough organized to put out a newspaper which will do the highest good for San Angelo College. Many of the present workers are going to graduate this spring. Where will the paper be next year?

If you are interested in any phase of work on the paper for the remainder of this year or for next year, now is the time to signify that interest. As provided in the constitution, the editor and business manager will be selected at the end of this year to serve next year.

Working on the school newspaper is just as much a part of college extracurricular activity as is football or basketball. You are doing something to help the school you are attending. And if you are interested in that type of work, you are doing something for yourself.

THE GAME OF GOLF

By

CHARLES EVANS, JR.

GOLF, THE GREAT COLLEGE SPORT

One estimate reveals that 50 students now play golf to one who plays baseball, and that 88 students now play golf to one who plays tennis. Another estimate is that 85 students play golf to one who plays football. I have no way of checking up on these figures.

A college boy does not have to be very strong or very anything, in fact, to get a great deal of pleasure out of golf. I recommend it to the average boy or girl in college; I advise all to play—not occasionally, but regularly. It seems to me that it is an ideal game, one which will increase in popularity in the colleges.

There are many games more attractive to the usual run of collegians, but it is well to lay the foundation in college for the game that abides. Other games will always have their interest, but all too soon must be laid aside.

There is no doubt that golf from a distance does not seem a game for college boys, for from the outside you judge them to prefer the more aggressive games with the personal encounter, games that bring out the fighting spirit of youth and the boys desire for action. Their day soon passes, and unless college graduates turn to golf, a long and sportless season lies before them. But golf is generous and lets them all in: any age, any size; and among the very best players of America there are men of almost every imaginable physique.

Therefore, I beg students to play the game of golf. Although it exercises every muscle of the body, there is only pleasant fatigue afterward. Moreover, golf is a great healer; it gives us exercise under the most healthful conditions, and brings calm and forgetfulness to sick and troubled people.

Two factors, aside from the charm of the game itself, contributed largely of the wonderful popularity of golf. There were the pleasure of the game, the sheer joy of it; and the pains and griefs, the tragedies that make up championship golf. Titles are beautiful things to own, and most anyone would love to have one. It has been my experience that the things hardest to get are the most gratifying. Of all the games golf is the most difficult to acquire at birth. You need something, however, in you that makes you keep practicing after many serious setbacks.

College students need this sport badly. It is gratifying to observe athletic directors seeing the light. Athletically speaking colleges are not inclined to enough golf.

Almost any college boy or girl can find the chance to play golf. And it is worth the time and expense, just as an education. I have learned a good many things on the golf course that are not taught in a college classroom. Self control is one thing.

When we stand on the tee with our hearts swelling with gladness, it is a time when we understand how good a place the world is, and for two hours or more, we banish all its worries and walk happily in the Land of Play.

Golf is a game that fills both hands with blessings; we can dream of them at night, and enjoy them in the sunshine; and whether our dreams fail us or are realized, we shall find health and happiness along the way.

All this is very simple, and I recommend it to every student who is seeking an outdoor amusement.

I am working to increase the interest in golf. The N. C. A. A. Committee wishes that one can hear the word "golf" echoing popularly in the different rooms of our colleges.

LIBRARY RECEIVES NEW BOOKS

A book right off the press is Gunther's Inside Europe, the new world war issue. It is a complete up-to-date fast-moving close up of Europe besides a personality review of all the big names making headlines now.

Inside Asia by the same author also is built on a thread of personality and treats of such key figures as the Emperor of Japan, Chiang Kai Shek, the Soong sisters. It covers everything that is happening in the Orient; and shows how acutely the problems of Asia concern the rest of the world.

A gay novel of healthy, normal people is State Fair by Phil Strong, and Grapes of Wrath by John Steinbeck is not so gay but important. This last will be made a seven day book and non-renewable.

Does the crowd like to come to your home? The Young Hostess by Pierce (author of It's More Fun When You Know the Rules) answers how and why to this question and many other things that college girls ask.

The new Cokesbury Game Book has a good collection of active, quiet, writing, outdoor, mental, and musical games besides some excellent brain twisters and games for every occasion.

The 1940 World Almanac and Book of Facts has come also. Anything that you might want to know can be found in this useful volume.

Though this Roberts-Kinney affair saw a bad start from the leap-year angle, Charles was observed wheeling around town the other day accompanied by Mary Ann and he had a most beatific expression on his mug.

Bill Riddling was up to his neck with dames the other afternoon. He was parked by the high school with Armilda Standford, Marjorie Miles, and Bennie Jacque Carpenter. We don't know who was ashamed of who, but they apparently didn't want to be seen.

John Dennis and Gwen Brown are at it again. But then, the leader in the field of competition at present seems to be Pat O'Donnel.

Tying for This Week's Cutest Couple are double-dates of last week: Minnie Davis and Reynolds Foster and Bettye Clarke and Finis Westbrook.

Allen Fulghum has Red Johnson in the act—a picture of he and Betty Slaton. It's, oh, so-o-o sweet, and will all of Red's other girls be mad! Surprise couple of the week: Jerry Stone and George Poulter.

Dinkey Halamicek, home from Tech over the week-end, monopolized J. W. Teague.

We guess that you read in the paper Sunday that Virginia Anderson married Dickey Miller from Tarleton Saturday night?

We can't get over how Leonard Layne has calmed Mary Sparks down. Do you remember her last year? There's a book on marriage circulating among our co-eds. Maybe it is one of the results of spring. If you want to read it, Marie Proctor probably has it now.

Becky Lester and Chuck Taylor—We may have something there!

Saturday night a whole gang of kids were out chousing around. Frances Trigg was with Bill Whitworth, Hugh Welch with Helen Abbott, "Peaberry" Coffey with Louise Briscoe, and Red Johnson and Helen Stephenson from Brady. Helen S. happened to read "Mingles" and it seems that she now has a big mad on at Frances.

Sunday night Sammie Jean Legg and J. L. Baugh and John Sorrels and Oleta Hawkins were together. Cecil Ray and Charlene Andrews dated for the B. S. U. Rodeo party. They also go to church together.

By the way, does anyone know if Oleta Hawkins is related to Sadie Hawkins?

Jerry Rhyne's handsome cousin here for the rodeo seemed to have a continual flock of girls around him.

MANY COLLEGIANS HAVE BECOME RADIO STARS IN THE LAST FEW WEEKS

San Angelo College has been advertised over the airwaves for the past few weeks. "College Life", a 15-minute program giving a cross section of everyday S. A. C. life, has become a regular feature over Radio station KGKL each Wednesday afternoon at 6:45 o'clock.

Mr. Ardis is in charge of the programs. Last Wednesday, the program consisted of singing and talking. Louise Briscoe served as master of ceremonies for the program. Richard Bogard has served in that capacity in the past. Bogard sang two numbers and read some facts prepared by Mr. Pope on the science of everyday life. Dorothy McClure sang a song. Mr. Ardis and
