

Dear Dady [sic],

I got your letter written June 22 about three days ago. I also got a V-Mail saying you were O.K. I don't remember who wrote it. I had another airplane ride day before yesterday in an AT-6 we have on the base. We went up 9,000 feet and got to dogfighting with some P-47's that were out for practice. Of course we didn't have a chance with them but it was a lot of fun diving in and out of the clouds. I have to wear a parachute so don't worry about that. The pilot let me fly about twenty minutes and I circled over town a few times. He said I flew pretty good. I think I could learn if I had a chance.

Love,
Norman
