Dear Norma,

We aren't having school today because the instructors are taking the A.M. off. It sure turned out yesterday and has been cold today. I understand we may go to school seven days a week but it's not official yet. I haven't looked up that lady yet. I went to a show yesterday afternoon and am planning to go to night if I get all my home work. Is it very cold there? It's so damn here, cold sure hurts. The altitude is 21 feet at the hanger. How's the cats? Take some pictures and send them to me.

Norman
