Dear Mama,

We started hydraulics[sic] yesterday. I believe it is going to be interesting. It's a lot like general science was in high school. It sure is going to take a lot of studying. You asked if I have enough cover. The barracks have an automatic heating system and I seldom use over one blanket but I have two blankets and a comfort if I need them. It's a lot warmer today. We have school in the new building now. They sure are pretty[sic]. How is Lake View doing in basketball? What's Richard's address? The boy that sleeps by me is about to starve to death for some cookies and I am too.
